2.8.4 Fair Value of Financial Instrument

In determining the fair value of its financial instruments, the Group uses a variety of methods and assumptions that are based on market conditions and risks existing at reporting date. The method used to determine fair value includes discounted cash flow analysis, available quoted market prices and dealer quotes. 2.9 Impairment of Assets

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet where there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realize the asset and settle the liabilities simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the

2.11 Provisions, Contingent Liability and Contingent Assets

A provision is recognized if, as a result of past events, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be reasonably estimated, and is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation.

If the effect of time value of money is significant, provisions are discounted using equivalent period government securities interest rates. Unwinding of discount is recognized as finance cost in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Provisions are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and are adjusted to reflect current best estimate.

Contingent liability is a possible obligation arising from past events and the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognized because it is possible that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefit will not be required to settle the obligations or reliable estimate of the amount of the obligations cannot be made. The Group discloses the existence of contingent liabilities in Other Notes to Financial Statements.

Contingent assets usually arise from unplanned or other unexpected events that give rise to the possibility of an inflow of economic benefits. Contingent Assets are not recognized though are disclosed, where an inflow of economic benefits is probable

Tax expense for the year, comprising current tax and deferred tax, are included in the determination of the net profit or loss for the year

(a) Current Income Tax

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the year end date. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(b) Deferred Tax

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the balance sheet approach, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in Financial Statements. Deferred income tax is also not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss). Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the year and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously

Current and deferred tax is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity,

2.13 Leases :

Company As Lessee

The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract, A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognizes a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. All leases which have a clause for cancellation of lease by giving one / two months notice are classified as Short Term Lease. For these short-term and low value leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

2.14 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks, cash on hand and short-term deposits net of bank overdraft with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

- Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive dividend is established
- (iii) Interest income is recognized using the time proportion method, based on the underlying
- (iv) Any expected loss is reconized as an expense immediately.

2.16 Earning Per Equity Shares

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares during the period is adjusted for events including bonus issue, bonus element in right issue to existing shareholders, share split, and reverse share split (consolidation of shares). For the purpose of calculating diluted earning per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effect of all dilutive potential equity shares

2.17 Employee Benefits: The Group operates various post-employment schemes, including both defined benefit and defined contribution plans. Short term employee benefits are recognized on an undiscounted basis whereas Long term employee benefits are recognized on a discounted basis

Defined Benefit Plan

Defined Benefit Costs are categorised as Follows:

- service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and re-measurement The first two components of defined benefit costs is reported in statement of profit and loss in the line item 'Employee benefits expenses'. Curtailment gains and losses are accounted for as past service costs The retirement benefit obligation recognized in the balance sheet represents the actual deficit or surplus in the defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans

A liability for a termination benefit is recognized at the earlier of when the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when the entity recognises any

Defined Contribution Plan

Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service Liabilities recognized in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

Other Employee Benefits: Other employee benefits are accounted for on accrual basis. Liabilities for compensated absences are determined based on independent actuarial valuation at year end and charge is recognized in the statement of profit and loss

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and items of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated

Significant Accounting Judgments, Estimates And Assumptions:

The preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities

(a) Taxes: Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilized. Significant management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

The Group neither have any taxable temporary difference nor any tax planning opportunities available that could partly support the recognition of these losses as deferred tax assets. On this basis, the Group has determined that it cannot recognize deferred tax assets on the tax losses carried forward except for the unabsorbed depreciation

(b) Defined Benefit Plans (Gratuity Benefits)

Particulars

Bank Guarantees outstanding

(secured against hypothecation of

Il present and future stocks and book debts & other current assets).

The cost of the defined benefit plans such as gratuity is determined using actuarial valuations An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each year end

The principal assumptions are the discount and salary growth rate. The discount rate is based upon the market yields available on government bonds at the accounting date with a term that matches that of liabilities. Salary increase rate takes into account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors on long term basis between our Group Companies and our Company. Our Company will adopt the necessary procedures and practices as permitted or required by law to address any conflict of interest situation as and when it arises R) Internal Risk Factors:

We do not own the premises in which our registered office and branch offices are located and the same are on lease arrangement. Any termination of such lease/license and/or nonrenewal thereof and attachment by Property Owner could adversely affect our operations. Our registered office is located at 202, Pressman House, 70A Nehru Road, Near Santacruz Airport Terminal, Vile Parle (E), Mumbai - 400 099 and we also have a several branch offices as elaborated on the page 37, other than Nagour branch. None of the other premises where our registered office and branch offices are located are owned by our Company. All these premises were taken on lease from independent entities on a monthly rental basis for a period ranging between 1 to 5 years. For further details, see "Our Business" on page 35 of this Draft Information Memorandum.

Unless it is renewed, upon termination of the lease, we are required to return the premises of our registered office and branch office to the Lessor/Licensor. There can be no assurance that the term of the agreements will be renewed on commercially acceptable terms and in the event the Lessor/Licensor terminates or does not renew the agreements, we are required to vacate the said premises where operational activities are carried out. In such a situation, we have to identify and take alternative premises and enter into fresh lease or leave and license agreement at less favourable terms and conditions to shift our registered office and operations. Such a situation could result in time overruns and may adversely affect our operations temporarily.

OOH / DOOH advertisement business is dependent on availability of space or locations for publishing of ads or displaying the panels for the brands . Any significant increase in the prices of such ad space or locations or non-availability of such ad space or sites may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Contrary to our business model's reliance on securing ad space within the out-of-home media landscape, there are notable threats that warrant consideration. These challenges pertain to the inherent risks associated with our primary dependency on specificareas or locations that are susceptible to shifts in demand and market dynamics.

Firstly, the research and analysis we conduct to align with historical client needs and projected exposure to commuters and shoppers might not accurately predict changing consumer behaviors or preferences. This could lead to a mismatch between our offerings and the evolving market demand, potentially undermining our revenue streams.

Secondly, while we typically engage in long-term licensing or leasing arrangements, these commitments can become burdensome in the face of unforeseen economic downturns or shifts in consumer habits. Such inflexibility may jeopardize our financial stability and profitability.

Additionally, our participation in public open tenders, whether structured around a minimum fixed revenue model or a revenue-sharing model, exposes us to fierce competition, with no guarantees of success. The failure to secure essential spaces or sites through these tenders could significantly impact our sales and overall financial health.

Furthermore, the inherent volatility in pricing structures for ad spaces and sites poses a continuous risk. Our ability to adapt swiftly to fluctuations in these prices may be limited, leaving us vulnerable to unexpected cost increases that could erode our profitability. In summary, while our business model has its strengths, it is important to recognize and address these threats in order to safeguard our long-term sustainability and success in the out-of-home advertising industry. Our business requires us to obtain and renew certain registrations, licenses and permits

3. from government and regulatory authorities and the failure to obtain and renew them in a timely manner may adversely affect our business operations.

In line with industry standards for out-of-home advertising, our business operations necessitate the periodic acquisition and renewal of various approvals, licenses, registrations, and permits, some of which may have expiration dates. In the event of expiration, we must submit applications for their renewal. Failure to uphold these registrations and licenses, or to adhere to the associated conditions, may result in the suspension or cancellation of our certificate of registration for specific activities, thereby preventing us from conducting those activities. Such a scenario has the potential to significantly and adversely impact our business, financial standing, and operational outcomes. Regrettably, we cannot provide assurance regarding the successful attainment of approvals for these applications or any future applications we may submit.

Our top 10 customers contribute majority of our revenues from operations for the period ended March. 31, 2023 accounted for 149.56 crore, representing 46.76% of total revenue and for the year ended 31st March 2022, it accounted for Rs 53.50 crore approximately representing 31.8% of total revenue Any loss of business from one or more of them may adversely affect our revenues and profitability.

Our business structure currently exposes us to certain risks and uncertainties, primarily stemming from the fact that a significant portion of our portfolio is tied to larger contracts from a select few clients. This concentration of our business on a limited number of projects or clients amplifies our susceptibility to fluctuations in individual contract dynamics and introduces a higher level of volatility to our overall results.

The potential adverse impact of this concentration is multifaceted. Firstly, should any of these major contracts fail to meet our expected margins or result in losses, it could significantly impair our financial standing and operational performance. Moreover, a reduction in the award of contracts from these key clients would further compound the adverse effects on our business.

We must acknowledge that we cannot provide absolute assurance that we will maintain the same level of business with these clients, or even secure new business opportunities from them. The loss of contracts from one or more of these clients has the potential to negatively impact our revenues and overall operational results.

Nonetheless, it's important to note that our customer base and revenue streams are subject to change as we actively seek to onboard new clients in the regular course of our operations. While we are confident in our ability to attract new customers, reliance on a limited number of clients remains a potential risk to our results of operations and financial stability.

Our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected, if we are unable to collect our dues and receivables from, or invoice our unbilled services to, our clients,

Taxation policies, including GST, can have an impact on the cash flow of advertising businesses Payments made by clients may be subject to GST and might require the agency to pay the tax upfront before receiving the payment. Understanding these cash flow implications is essential for proper financial planning, managing working capital requirements, and avoiding any liquidity crunches. Our business depends on our ability to successfully obtain payment from our clients of the amounts they owe us for work performed. There is no guarantee that we will accurately assess the creditworthiness of our clients. Such conditions could cause clients to delay payment, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which could increase our receivables. If we are unable to meet our contractual obligations, we might experience delays in the collection of, or be unable to collect, our client balances, and if this occurs, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected

We may be unable to protect our intellectual property or knowhow from third party infringement which could harm our brand and services

We are largely dependent on maintenance of intellectual property rights in the entertainment products and services which we market. Piracy of media products including digital and internet piracy may decrease revenue from exploitation of our products.

Intellectual property (IP) is a significant aspect of the advertising industry. It includes trademarks, copyrights, patents, and trade secrets. Understanding the risk factors related to IP infringement helps businesses safeguard their creative work, prevent unauthorized use, and protect their brand reputation. This knowledge allows them to include appropriate provisions in contracts to protect their IP rights and address any potential disputes or violations. We routinely monitor third party trademarks, including domain names, by keeping a check on the use of our trademarks. However, it is possible that we are not aware of misuse of our trademarks, and this could potentially cause loss of our reputation, which could impact our business and may even affect our goodwill. Signpost India Limited owns a Registered Trademark "SIGNPOST INDIA" vide application no. 3626198 under Class 35.

The new equity shares issued by Signpost India Limited pursuant to the Scheme shall remain frozen in the depository system until listing / trading permission is given by the Stock Exchanges for the equity shares of Signpost India Limited.

Signpost's business faces intense competition from unorganized sector and as a result company may face operational risks

The OOH media industry is subject to shifts in tastes and preferences of audiences, which could have an impact on the operations of our company
